Loyola Day Events To Begin At 12:45

The events of the first annual Loyola Day will begin today at 12:45. Because of this all classes will be called off after 12:20. About 250 students are scheduled to participate in eighteen different individual and team events. The events are scheduled to end at approximately 3:30, at which time awards will be made.

Chairman Annulis displays trophies to be awarded to Loyola Day victors.

Ribbons and Trophies

Awards will consist of ribbons for the first, second, and third place winners in each event. Moreover, there will be trophies for the individual amassing the greatest number of points, as well as for the winning class. The trophy for the winning class will go on permanent display. Both of these trophies were donated by the Slater Food Service.

Stick Around

The Loyola Day Committee requests that those students participating in the various events do not leave after their event is finished, but rather remain to watch the other events and cheer their friends on. The committee also requests that all students participating in the events dress in the locker rooms.

Chairman Annulis

Loyola Day is a Student Council sponsored event. The chairman of the committee is Tom Annulis. A schedule of events is listed on page three.

Library Releases Biennial Report

by Jay Heise

According to library records for the period July, 1960-January, 1961, there has been an extensive use of the library, and an enormous circulation of books and reading materials among Loyola's students.

10,949 Circulation

During that six month period, out of the 50,000 books available, there were a total of 10,949 books and reading materials in circulation. Of that total, 5,475 books were borrowed by students of the day college. The others were loaned to students of the evening college, graduate students, faculty, staff members, and others.

Other statistics show that 9,223 of the books and reading materials borrowed were general books, while 1,726 were reserve books. There were also 1,878 reserve books used in the library, but this figure was not included in the total circulation.

32,052 Attendance

According to the librarian, Miss Vinci, who counts the number of students in the library each hour, there were a total of 32,052 people present during the six month period. The greatest number were present between the hours of ten and three.

March Total

A total of 2,432 books were taken out in March by day college students, and there were a total of 7,696 people in the library that month.

L-Men Hold Spring Hop

On Saturday, May 6, the Block "L" Club is sponsoring a Spring Dance in the Loyola College Gymnasium from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music for the occasion will be provided by Joe Dowling's orchestra.

M. V. P. Plaque

Proceeds from the dance will go to the Block "L" scholarship fund, and John Heagney, the dance chairman, has announced that the plaque will be given for each of the fall inter-collegiate sports on the Loyola schedule. The plaques will be given to the athletes who have been designated the most valuable player by the members of each squad.

Membership in the Block "L" is made up of members of the college who have won a letter in inter-collegiate competition or who assist in the athletic program of the Director of Athletics. This year's president is John Heagney.

Team Captains

Tickets for the dance are $3 per couple and can be obtained from John Healy, Ed Murn, Peter and Seeley Powley, Alex Cummings, and Tony Torba. All are invited to attend.

(L. to r.) Nick Chesno, Pete Genovese and Bill Philipp rehearse for Albert Camus' "Caligula" which will be held on campus May 12 and 13. This is one of the many aspects of "Loyola life" which will be shown over WMAR in the near future.

WMAR To Televis Program On Loyola

In the near future television station WMAR-TV will present a full hour program on life at Loyola College. Present plans call for a production by video tape originating at the Loyola College campus.

The tape will be made on Tuesday, May 9, and Wednesday, May 10, weather permitting. The pictures and sound will be picked up by four cameras operating out of a mobile unit of WMAR-TV. Pictures will be taken of college officials, classes in session, athletic activities, the ROTC, student activities, and the alumni.

To Depict Student Life

The purpose of this program is to depict the life of the students at Loyola College and to portray those features which uniquely blend to form the College.

Tape to be Done at WMAR

The picture and sound will be sent by microwave to the receiving antenna of WMAR, where the tape will be done. The date of the showing of this tape will be announced later.

Robert Jones of WMAR is in charge of production. Father Scanlan is the college representative.

Spot News

Debating Officers

At a meeting on Monday, April 24, Bill Everhart was elected President of the Robert Bellarmine Society, succeeding Thom Curtis. Other officers elected were John Baynes, Vice-President; Steve Agnes, Corresponding Secretary; Rich Lawrence, Recording Secretary; and Paul Montgomery, Treasurer. At the same meeting, a committee was formed to make arrangements for the annual banquet and to study proposed constitutional changes.

President Hobbs

On Thursday, April 25, Glee Club elections were held and Wayne Hobbs was elected President. Henry Becker was elected Vice-President; Joe Chepaitis, Treasurer; Bill Lorrenz, Secretary; Ray Messick, Librarian. The two offices appointed by the President will be filled by Vince McCann, Publicity Secretary, and Joe Baginski, Business Manager.

Managers

On Monday, April 24, the Management Club held elections. Norris Dodge was elected President. Marion Karolkowski and Frank Musotto were elected as Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively.

Senior Jobs

Several senior employment opportunities have recently come to the attention of Mr. Moritz. Jobs include; Production Manager Trainee (Cont. p. 3, col. 3)

OPEN END: On Monday at 5 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge, Phil Flynn (left) of the Class of '60 and Mike Schap of the Class of '59 gave an informal talk on graduate school to several students.

Editorial

Michael Abromaitis

The proposed "New Look," which was formally offered to the students of Loyola College during the two weeks of election campaigning, soon became a "No Look." Last Tuesday evening, the administration officially disqualified the "Look's" originator and chief exponent, Michael Abromaitis. The reason for such action was officially promulgated on the Dean of Men's bulletin boards: in effect, evidence that the student in question was affiliated with a social fraternity.

For the benefit of those, if any, who are not familiar with the official policy of the Administration on social fraternities, allow us to quote from the 1960-61 Student Handbook: "The attention of every student is called to the following policy statement of Loyola College: a. 'Loyola College strongly disapproves of, and will not tolerate, formally organized but unrecognized associations of its students.' b. 'The Administration reserves the right to dismiss at any time, and without making public the reason, any student who conducts himself contrary to the standards of the College.' Therefore, if the evidence, which the college authorities obtained, substantiates in any way violation of the fraternity policy, we must recognize their decision as proper and even lenient. Let's look at the situation from another point of view.

We asked Michael Abromaitis if he was a member of the fraternity, which we all know to be ZHO; he replied negatively. Another student, known to us as a former member, said that there is presently no direct association of the fraternity with Loyola College students; especially that no students became members this year. The above statements are denied by many, believed by others, and ignored by few. In any case, to our knowledge no one has openly challenged the decision of the Administration; and we doubt that such a challenge could show any disparity of facts.

In conclusion, to those who feel that the disqualification announcement was made late in the campaign in order to make an example of the student involved, we have been informed that it was enacted when the evidence was made sufficient.

the Watchdog

The Juniors have given us a few words to say about their last philosophy test. However, since this is a respectable paper, we don't think that we should say them.

While we really don't know what the format of the test was, it seems to us that any test which would provoke a student into singing "Remember Pearl Harbor" must have been a bit unethical.

Joe Bowman looks like an advertisement for a well-known television series--"Twilight Zone."

We've reports from those Loyolans in charge of the current "Loyola Day" that John Feller has done it again. He's entered the three-legged race without any partner. Either the Nebbish has made a drastic mistake or there is something which he isn't telling us. All this and Cardinal Gibbons too.

Henry Becker is so dumb that he thinks the Gaza Strip is some kind of a burlesque dance.

Now our contribution to the mental anguish at Loyola. Confidential to Loyolan athletes: Remember how great cigarettes used to taste?

A new play by Jean Paul Satire:

WATCHDOG: "Tell us, old timer, what was Loyola like when you were here?"

OLDTIMER: "When I was here Loyola was a clean place. The air was clean; the cafe was clean; even the students were clean, both within and without."

WATCHDOG: "Yeah, boy. I remember . . . I remember when we had towels in the washroom."

Confidential to Jim Clarke: Bang! Bang! Bang! Honk! Honk!

Did you hear the one about the sick dog who kept on barking up the wrong tree?

Father Conlin says that he's our biggest fan and that he tries never to miss a column. We guess he wants to find out what we've been doing in his class.

Rol Sturm says that he wouldn't go on "College Bowl" if he were approached. "I'd probably have trouble with the pin boys."

We leave you with these famous words from the French Revolution: "Liberty, Paternity, Equality." You didn't think we'd use the real middle word, did you?

Editors par-excellence

Schutz And Pretl

There are many activities on campus, but somehow or other many of them just never get together except, at times, on business functions. As far as social life goes, unless possibly they have members in common, there is a kind of bloc between them.

Between the Greyhound and the Evergreen Annual, there exists no such bloc. This is largely due to the influence exerted by two top ranking members of the Yearbook staff, Lindsley Schutz and Steven Pretl.

Lucky Lindsley

Lindsley Schutz, the editor of Loyola's Annual, and at present an English major, enjoys idle conversation and is, by his own admission, quickly becoming somewhat of a book collector. In his spare time, you might find him anywhere from an adult recreation center to the North Avenue Market, browsing through one of the "book fairs."

Another favored pastime is, of course, the game of chess. Lindsley plays the game with such proficiency that it is hard to believe that he didn't invent it. Indeed, his prowess at the board has won him the honor of being elected president of the Chess Club.

Beer and Pretls

The senior copy editor of the yearbook, Steve Pretl, has much the same interests as Lindsley, with a few extra to boot. Steve currently lists the Glee Club, ASN, Math Club and Chess Club among his activities. He is also, along with Lindsley Schutz, listed among the six contestants for the current Ayl Philosophy competitions (see page 5).

Steve, currently a Math major, hopes to go to graduate school after leaving Loyola. His major interests seem to center around Psychology and related subjects.

Let Me At 'Em

by John Q. Feller

As graduation rolls around, it is only fair to give credit to those deserving seniors who have contributed in some way to the decline and fall of Loyola. Among others, special commendation should be given to ten seniors, who, in addition to running the College, have contributed to the field of literature. To these ten, I would like to award the Nebbish Prize in literature: JOHN Healy: "How To Run Loyola"

JOHN BYRNES: "Behind the Bal-lots"

DICK PRODEY: "Cheaper by the Dozen"

MIKE CATANEO: "Mr. Vice President"

KENNY GRAY: "Inside The Council"

ROL STURM: "A Quarter Century Later"

ED MURN: "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

TIM HIMMELHEBER: "From Managing Editor to Copy Boy"

JOHN HEAGNEY: "Principles of Elocution"

JOHN CONNOR: "Second Lieutenant"

Martin to Hobbs

Junior Joe Martin tells me that he can guarantee President Hobbs of the Glee Club a large student turnout at the next concert. Joe has a little song called "Mountain Peak," which if practiced, will insure a record turnout. For details see Joe Martin.

Heagney and Co.

John Heagney, President of the Block "L" Club, promises that the dance Saturday, following close upon the heels of Loyola Day, will be one of the best in recent years. John is also giving away freetickets to anyone who sells twenty; to anyone selling fifty or more, there's a fifth in it.

Termpapers

Last week, the termpapers which Dr. Varga assigned to his history majors were due. The required length was 1800 words. In addition to the text of the paper itself, there were a footnote section, a bibliography, and two appendices. The average length of the paper was six to eight pages. With the four supplements, the total came to about twenty pages. Despite all the time and effort which went into these papers, the sad fact is that Doctor doesn't mark his termpapers on his ingenious curve.

Service Noted

Mike Abromaitis, the erstwhile candidate for President of the Student Council, is to be credited for his selfless contribution to the spirit of Evergreen. By a campaign characterized with multitudinous posters, originality, and an open discussion of issues, Mike and his chief opponent, John Baynes, succeeded in catching the attention and interest of the student body. Both Mike and John are to be congratulated for changing student apathy into lively interest.

Harbor Lights

Well, the theatrical outlook is practically nil this weekend, and it appears that the old reliable movies will once again have to be the mainstay for something-to-do seekers.

For fans of the barbershop quartet, the Lyric Theatre presents a raft of barbershop quartets tonight and tomorrow night. The performance will begin both nights at 8 o'clock. The Lyric will also present "The King and I" starring Lois Hunt, next Friday and Saturday.

The Vagabonds will mark the close of the season with the three-week engagement of Robert Sherwood's hit, "Reunion in Vienna." This opens Monday, May 8, and will run nightly at 8:30 except Sundays in the Vagabond Arena Theatre, "The Theatre in the Round."

Tomorrow night the Block "L" will throw its Spring Dance from 9 to 1 with the music of Joe Dowling. Everyone is invited, and in accordance with traditional rules, no one is supposed to bring anything--except a date, of course.

If you're wandering around tomorrow afternoon with a date and nothing to do, the tennis team and the baseball team meet Georgetown here at 2:30.

Now for the movie realm. Peter Sellers has a new one at the 5 West entitled "The Two-Way Stretch." "Gone With The Wind" is still at the Town. The Little Theatre (and it is a little theatre) is showing a British mystery movie, "The Secret Partner;" it's one that's well worth its salt in true British tradition, and no one is seated after it begins.

Well, you may end up just sitting in your car, and you may find it interesting at a drive-in where such prize winners as the ape thriller, "Konga" and "The Blob" are playing.

Next weekend features a promising presentation of "Caligula" by the Evergreen Players.

On Saturday, May 6, Tau Kappa Alpha, the college honorary fraternity, is sponsoring a contest in extemporaneous and prepared oratory. Trophies will be awarded to the winning team and to the individual winners. Bob Goldsmith, the President, is the contest chairman.

Political 3

On April 15, Gerard Miller, Lawrence Curtis, and Lee Caldwell attended a conference sponsored by the Citizenship Clearinghouse at George Washington University.

These annual conferences are designed to acquaint college students with the practical workings of the American political system.

One of the best investments you'll ever make...

You know what you invest in advanced ROTC . . . two years of classroom time and outside study.

But just see how handsomely your investment pays off.

First and foremost, there's the proud moment in Graduation Week when the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant are pinned on your Army uniform . . . and deep inside the warm sense of accomplishment at having made it.

There's immediate help in meeting expenses

. . . a subsistence allowance of $535 for the two-year advanced ROTC course. Uniforms and military textbooks paid for. $117 for your six-week summer camp training, plus travel allowance. And when you're commissioned, a $300 uniform allowance.

You discharge your military obligation with the traditional rank, pay, privileges and responsibilities of an officer in the United States Army.

And later, when you're starting your climb up the civilian ladder, advanced ROTC will still be paying off. Success in the executive areas of business and industry comes earlier and more substantially to the man who can lead. Few are born leaders; but leadership can be learned. And advanced ROTC is a great place to learn it.

Talk with the Professor of Military Science at your school. Learn more about advanced ROTC. Ask particularly about the ROTC course in Leadership, with its practical experience in command responsibilities.

Ayd Philosophy Contest Scheduled For Monday

Contest

Analysis

by Tim Himmelheber

Six seniors will vie for the Ayd Gold Medal in Philosophy at the third annual competition scheduled for Monday, May 8.

Set for 9:00 a.m. in Cohn Hall, attendance at the contest is mandatory for the juniors and seniors, and all freshmen and sophomores who are free at that time are invited.

Six Contestants

The students entered in the contest are: John Connor, Tony Hughes, John Jordan, Steve Pretl, Lindsley Schutz and Walt Truszkowski. Members of the Philosophy Department who will be asking the questions are: Fr. Scott, Fr. d'Inville, Fr. Higgins, Fr. Scanlan, and Mr. McDermott.

The contest consists in questions by the faculty panel on a list of fifteen theses from the fields of Metaphysics, Ethics and Psychology. The competition is billed as "The Answer of Scholastic Philosophy to the Philosophy of Communism."

Elective and Selective

Students were chosen for the competition on an elective and selective basis. About fifteen students submitted their names for the contest; the top six students, according to their Philosophy grades, were then picked to compete.

The past two winners were Jim Slifker in '59, now at Notre Dame, and Mike Plott in '60, now engaged in graduate work at Georgetown.

Monday's Ayd Philosophy Competition is unique among the various campus examinations in that it offers a stern challenge along with a commensurate reward: it tests the six seniors' powers not only of retention and recall, but also of wisdom—as opposed to mere knowledge of facts. All contestants are exempted from the final exams in Ethics and Psychology and receive an "A" for this semester.

Army Man

John Connor brings to the Competition a good background in Metaphysics under Fr. Scott, as well as high marks in Ethics and Psychology. Top man academically, Tony Hughes looms as the man to beat for the medal. He has already copped five over the past four years.

Math majors John Jordan and Steve Pretl both have demonstrated a keen insight into the subtleties of philosophical thought and a fine grasp of the fundamentals. John should be fully prepared for the contest, while Steve will most likely be in contention up to the very end.

Yearbook Men

Lindsley Schutz appears to be the "dark horse" of the competition. He has exhibited a ready facility for discussions along a philosophical bent. Walt Truszkowski has constantly shown an ability to reason on the competition, which shapes up as an unpredictable six-way battle.

Hams Eligible For Grants

The Amateur Radio Foundation, Inc., is offering scholarships for graduate and undergraduate study. To be eligible applicants must have completed one year in an accredited college or university and must be enrolled in a course leading to a degree. The scholarship pays $250 per year and is subject to renewal.

Licensed Radio Operators

Applicants must be licensed radio operators. Applications must be made not later than June 1, 1961, and should be addressed to: Chairman of Scholarship Committee Amateur Radio Foundation, Inc. 600 Munsey Building Washington, D. C.

Elections Next Week For Mohler Trophy

Beginning on Monday, May 8, and running until May 12, elections for the John R. Mohler Trophy are to be held in the book store. Founded in memory of the late John Mohler, class of 1950, this award is given annually by the Loyola College Alumni Association to the senior deemed outstanding in athletics, scholarship and character by the election of his fellow students. These students must, however, be lettermen here at Evergreen. Managers may also vote.

Eligibility

To be eligible, a student must be a senior athlete and have participated in inter-collegiate sports for three years at Loyola College. He should be an above-average student, emotionally mature, and well liked by his teammates. He need not be a star.

Candidates eligible for the trophy this year are Wade Bowman, Charles Carey, Dave Carney, Buck Effinger, Jim Foley, John Heagney, Nick Jackson, Paul Karpers, Ed Murn, Chuck Pessagno, Pete Powley, Ray Reilly, Tom Schulz, and Don Torres.

Previous Winners

Previous Loyola College students who have won the coveted trophy are John T. Benzing (57), John Cummings Jr. (58), Donald Deinlein (59), and Paul Sherman (60). This year's winner and previous winners of the trophy are truly those men who have followed the examples set down by the late John R. Mohler.

Award Winners

On Saturday, May 13, at the Loyola Alumni Block "L" Club Dance, the first five newly initiated plaques for outstanding performance and leadership in the individual sports will be awarded. These plaques are for the fall sports. The remaining awards for the spring sports are to be awarded at the Athletic Banquet later on this month.

Those athletes who received the majority vote for the individual fall sports are the following: Cross-Country, freshman Rick Frampton; Basketball, senior Ed Murn; Wrestling, senior Charles Carey; Soccer, junior Jim Kennedy; Swimming, sophomore Ken Freimuth. Congrats to these athletes.

To the Class of '64:

I wish to thank you wholeheartedly for the confidence you have expressed in me by re-electing me to the Student Council; I shall try to be worthy of this trust.

As your representative on the Council, I will always be glad to hear from you when you have an idea that you think might benefit our class and the school as a whole. If you are unable to buttonhole me on campus, feel free to call me at my home. My phone number is HUnter 6-7522. Thanks again.

Intramurals

Action was fast and furious in the intramural softball league last week. A few more teams fell by the wayside in the single elimination competition. Steve Bogusky held the Chem Meds to 4 runs while his Foul Baegel teammates blasted out 13 markers and a victory. Norrie Byrnes' splendid defensive play in center field saved Bogusky a few runs. The Nifty Nine dropped the Junior Moleskins from the unbeaten ranks with a 9-8 triumph. The Junior Moles blew an 8 run lead in that one. The Dukes, whacking out 6 scores in the third frame, downed the Wep Lizards by an 11-5 count and the Madballs survived a 5 run rally in the last inning to defeat the Flintstones in a real slugfest, 12-9. Tom Schultz of the Moleskins, featuring a blazing fastball, led his teammates to a 6-1 win over the Fetal Pigs. The strong hurling of Schultz makes the Moles a prime contender in the title fight.

In case anyone hasn't heard yet, the Handy Six beat Lamar's Pagans last Wednesday for the intramural basketball title. The members of the winning squad are Mike Ellis, Tom Gentner, Chuck Pessagno, Nick Kohlman, Mike Rose, Brian Flannery, and Al Budacz.

Senior right fielder Dave Carney takes his swings against "Iron Mike" in batting practice. The Hound nine plays Georgetown tomorrow on their home field at 2:30.

Rifle Team Wins Eight

The ROTC rifle team held elections last week and junior Dennis Homberg was elected team captain for the 1961-62 season. Dennis will replace Jerry Balda as captain and he is confident that next year's team will show vast improvement due to the experience gained by this year's members. Sophomores James Abraham and John Stranovsky were elected secretary-treasurer and range captain, respectively.

Improved Record

This year's team ended this season with an 8-9 record. This is a great improvement over the two wins registered by last year's squad. The team started slowly posting a 1-5 record at the beginning of the season. The latter part of the season saw the riflemen post a 7-4 mark for the remaining contests. The top scorers for Loyola were Paul Schlick with 3552 points, Nathan Tinanoff (3151), John Stranovsky (3141), Dennis Homberg (3087), and Jim Abraham (2883). This was the first year that these top four scorers had fired for the team. Paul Schlick and Nathan Tinanoff will receive the first and second place ROTC medals, respectively, for their performances.

Sgt. Foley

Many thanks are owed to the coach of the team, sergeant John Foley, for his many hours of work with the squad. Under his guidance the team trained and went on to place second in the state championship competition.

Newly elected rifle team officers: Abraham, Homberg, and Stranovsky.

"BLOCK L" LEADER—Charles Grohm, who on Wednesday was elected President of the Block L Club. Charlie is a letter owner in soccer, wrestling, and lacrosse.

Georgetown Nine Here

After meeting Western Maryland at home yesterday, the Hounds will play Georgetown here tomorrow at 2:30. Last year the Hounds lost to their rival Jesuit school from Washington 3-1. They will be out to avenge that defeat with interest. After Saturday, the next game for the Hounds will be on Thursday at 3 o'clock at home. In this game Loyola will be trying for another win against Johns Hopkins.

Last week the Hounds ran into a bit of bad weather as their scheduled doubleheader with Mt. St. Mary's was rained out. The squad also suffered their third defeat in Mason-Dixon play. They lost to Towson State by a score of 8-6. Phil Potter held Towson to 2 runs on 3 hits for six innings. However State broke loose for 3 runs in both the seventh and eighth innings against Jody Satterfield and Rel Van Daniker respectively. Going into the top of the ninth losing 8-1, the Hounds almost pulled the game out with a five run rally. John Cambell hit a grand slam homer to knock in four of the runs. Mike Elliot had three hits and Charlie Bree had four, including two doubles, to pace the Loyola attack.

Golfers At Mount

Loyola's linksmen, rained out of last Friday's scheduled match with Mount Saint Mary's at Mount Pleasant, will play the Mountaineers this afternoon at 1:00 at the Caledonia course in Pennsylvania. The Hound lineup for this match will be Chuck Pessagno, Bill Mislowsky, Ed Conway, Tom Newbauer, Jim Foley and Mike Kenney.

A. U. Next

After today's match, the Hounds will meet American University on May 12 and then, in their final outing this season, they will play in the Conference Championship Tournament to be held on May 15 at the Augusta C. C. in Staunton, Virginia.

Track Finals May 12-13

The Hound track team has completed this season's dual meet schedule and is now preparing for the conference championships which will be held next weekend at American U.

In the championship meet, Hound sprinter Arnie Sapperstein will be favored to retain his 100 and 220 yd. dash titles and Rick Frampton will rule as the experts' choice in the mile and half mile events. Loyola's mile relay team will also be highly rated.

Last Wednesday, the Hound trackmen suffered a heartbreaking 63-59 loss to Catholic U. Going into the broadjump, the last event on the card, Loyola needed first and second places to win the meet. Phil Pierpont took first for the Hounds, but his teammates just didn't have it. C. U. took second and third places in the event and thereby won the meet by a four point margin. The only bright spot in the defeat was the Hound mile relay quartet of Tom Kenney, Denny Voith, Rick Frampton, and Arnie Sapperstein. On the strength of a fantastic anchor leg by Sapperstein, they broke the school mile relay record with a sizzling 3:32 clocking.

In the Mason-Dixon relays at Gallaudet last weekend, the Hounds lost their 4 mile relay title to Mt. St. Mary's. However, Loyola's 880 Yd. relay team of Phil Pierpont, Tony Ryan, Tom Kenney, and Arnie Sapperstein salvaged some glory for Loyola by a solid second place finish in the highly competitive 880 field.

Hound Ten Visits N. Y.

This weekend the Hound Lacrosse squad will head northward for two games in the New York area. On Friday, Loyola will visit Post College and on Saturday afternoon, the Hounds will meet a strong Hofstra outfit.

Hopkins 22, Loyola 4

In last week's action, the Hound ten broke even, winning one and losing one. On Wednesday, they lost to Hopkins, 22-4. Marty Pilsch, Green and Grey attackman, showed his class by pouring 3 goals through the Jay defense which is probably the best in the country. Freshman Jacques Remmell notched the other Hound score.

Hounds Down Gettysburg

On Saturday against Gettysburg, Loyola triumphed, 8-5. The Hounds outplayed their opponents, but had trouble cracking the tough Gettysburg zone defense. Finally, Loyola found the range for their 8 goal output. Hound scorers were Jim Lamar (2), Jacques Remmell (2), Mike Abromaitis, Ham Dugan, Jay Henkel, and Marty Schnuit.
